The 1st Korean Ambassador's Cup KORUS Tae Kwon Do Championship

Greetings

June 11, 2014

Dear Taekwondo Brothers and Sisters:

It is a great honor for me to serve as the tournament president of the 1ST Korean Ambassador's Cup KORUS Taekwondo Championship, scheduled on September 20, 2014, at the Washington Convention Center in North West Washington DC. The event will begin at 10:00 AM. I look forward to seeing you all.

I would like to take advantage of this opportunity to share some philosophical points of Taekwondo. When I first became a Taekwondo instructor, I claimed that martial art is a philosophy which can be very instrumental in developing our youth through mental discipline and physical conditioning. However, I had a difficult time justifying how punching and kicking could be a philosophy.

In the early 1970s, I was writing a column for Black Belt magazine. The editor called on me to write an article explaining Taekwondo as a philosophy. At first, I was having trouble trying to explain this. During three months of research, I was able to develop the article, "Seven Qualities of a Champion," which has become well known among martial artists of all styles. The article explains how punching and kicking can be a philosophy.

There are seven physical qualities such as power, speed, timing, patience, balance, flexibility, and posture developed before one can become a taekwondo champion. By the same token, there are corresponding seven human qualities of a human champion, such as knowledge in place of power, quick thinking in place of speed, punctuality in place of timing, sense of perseverance in place of endurance, balancing body, character, and mind in place of physical balance, kindness in place of flexibility, mental posture in place of physical posture. This is how Taekwondo can be described as a philosophy.

I hope all Taekwondo students will show good sportsmanship and sincerely hope everybody is careful throughout the day. I hope everybody will do their best to his or her ability to become a champion in life and taekwondo. I want everyone to know you can become anything you want to be, but only if you want, because you all were born a genius.

"A genius is made by one percent inspiration and 99 Percent perspiration." Thomas Edison

Sincerely Yours,

Tournament President. Grand Master Jhoon Rhee

Invitation

June 11, 2014

Dear Sir or Madam

I would like to cordially invite you to
The 1st Korean Ambassador's Cup KORUS Tae Kwon Do Championship

The 1st Korean Ambassador's Cup KORUS Tae Kwon Do Championship will start this year and will be held biennially with the object of strengthening martial arts spirit and good sportsmanship.

This championship will invite the Korean Professional Tae Kwon Do Demonstration Team and they were invited in hopes that their high quality demonstrations would help you in improving your Tae Kwon Do skills.

We are proud to hold the first championship in our nation's capital, Washington DC. We hope you take advantage of this opportunity to enjoy the championship as well as the atmosphere that the city has to offer.

Please be present at this event which shall be a festival to share Tae Kwon Do techniques and build new friendships.

Sincerely,

Tournament Director. Grand Master Moon Hyeong Lee
